Local Affairs.

The Game of Hash.—This is a game that causes much talk among folks that exactly understand, or have no chance to play it. Constables are supposed to have the best knowledge of it, and are accused of playing it more than other folks. We do not intend to deny that the game is played in this city. Oh, no! For we believe that the observance of the old proverb "a still tongue is the sign of a wise head," is a sure indication of a successful officer. The winners of this game are called "hush money," and always is the loss to the same party. An officer never loses his cash by it; though, caught, he is apt to lose his commission; and it is difficult to catch him.

A reporter of local news often catches a "hush" for not playing this game. Frequently gentlemen's names are given in connection with very dirty acts, (for gentlemen, as at present rated, are often guilty of such acts,) and down they come to the reporter, and "give him Jessie" in something of the following style: "Well, Mr. T—, by this evening's paper, that you connected my name with the—case. Now, sir, I had no idea that you would mention the name of a gentleman of my standing in such a manner. If I had been a bad man, who had no character to lose, the case would have been different; but as I think you have treated me rascally, I wish you to apologize publicly for this. We had such a talk from one man, and gave this answer: "Your name did appear, sir, and when men like you are guilty of such acts, men who have children growing up should know it that they may turn them against your company." Having no friends to reward, or enemies to punish in the discharge of our duty, we receive no "hush money," and shall pursue our course deemed most proper.

National Theatre.—This evening a fine performance is offered for the gratification of the patrons of this popular place of amusement. Mr. H. B. MATTESON, the amiable treasurer of the theatre, takes his benefit, and we hope he will have a crowded house. Miss Anna Sinclair makes her first appearance, and Mr. Burke volunteers his services for this evening, and the entertainment must be of the highest order. "Jonathan Bradford," "Lola Montez," and the "Lady of Lyons" we are sure will give Matteson a "bumper."

The Panorama.—This evening gives the best chance for a voyage down the Mississippi, and we would advise all who have not seen the beautiful painting at Iron Hall, to go this evening as they may never have another opportunity.

Music.—We have been asked several times if there is a probability of any of our musical associations giving concerts during the winter. We have not been able to answer positively. We would very much like to perform a good oratorio, such as the Messiah, or St. Paul. The society is well able to perform the vocal parts, and we believe a very fair orchestra might be obtained in Washington.

The Gardiner Trial.—This morning witnesses were again brought upon the stand, and evidence offered. A portion of the evidence was objected to, and another argument was commenced at two o'clock. The case does not appear to be so interesting as it was supposed it would be.

The Washington Monument.—Hands have been engaged upon this work for several weeks. We hope they may be able to make further progress this season than during the last that has passed.

"Fair Play" is again unavoidably postponed.

PROFESSIONAL CARD.

DR. ROBERT HUNTER, Member of the Royal College of Surgeons, London, and late Pupils in the London Consumptive Hospital, etc., will visit Washington professionally on or about the 20th inst. For the information of those suffering with Diseases of the Throat, Lungs, and Heart, and known as core throat, Bronchitis, Consumption, Asthma, Pulphitis, &c., he would here say that his long experience and popularity at the London Consumptive Hospital enables him to afford the invalid in addition to general treatment all the advantages of local treatment, as advised by Sir Charles Seaton, Dr. Corrigan, of the Dublin Hospital, Dr. M. D. K. Prof. Elison, and others, and which consist in breathing or inhaling into the Lungs warm medicated air, or vapor, thereby bringing the remedy into direct contact with the part diseased. The most severe forms of Sore Throat, Bronchitis, and Asthma, are speedily removed by inhalation, and in Consumption when the Lungs have become tuberculous and ulcerated, to a limited extent, the fullest are given by the author's above quoted of the power of inhaled remedies to cause the absorption of the tubercle and heal the ulcers. Dr. Rawlings, his assistant, has arrived in Washington and taken offices on Pennsylvania avenue, immediately opposite Iron Hall, where he may be seen daily between the hours of 9 o'clock, a. m., to 3 o'clock, p. m., and will be happy to impart gratuitously every information in regard to fees, treatment, &c. Dr. Hunter has private testimonials from John Elliottson, M. D., E. R. S., Physician to St. Thomas's Hospital, and to Sir Charles Seaton, M. D., E. R. S., Physician to the London Consumptive Hospital; Golding Bird, M. D., E. R. S.; John Cowen, M. D., Physician to Margaret Dispensary; Alfred Bowen, M. D., author of "Observations on the treatment of Pulmonary Consumption," and many others which may be seen at his rooms.

PROSPECTUS OF THE

SCIENTIFIC AMERICAN.

To Mechanics, Inventors, and Manufacturers.

THE publishers of the "Scientific American," respectfully give notice that the Sixth Volume of this valuable journal commenced on the twenty-first of September, offering a favorable opportunity for all to subscribe who take an interest in the progress and development of the Mechanics, Arts, and Manufactures of our country. The character of the Scientific American is too well known throughout the country to require a detailed account of the various subjects discussed throughout its columns. The aim of the publishers is and has been to render it the most thorough and useful scientific journal in the country; and to judge of this, by comparing its circulation and influence with other publications of the same class, they have unequivocal evidence of its value, as the leading exponent of the Arts and Sciences. It is published weekly as heretofore, in quarto form on fine white paper, affording at the end of the year an Illustrated Encyclopedia of over four hundred pages, with an index, and from five to six hundred original Engravings, described by letters of reference; beside a vast amount of practical information, concerning the progress of Scientific and Mechanical improvements, Chemistry, Civil Engineering, Manufacturing in its various branches, Architecture, Masonry, Botany—in short it embraces the entire range of the Arts and Sciences. It also possesses an original feature not found in any other weekly journal in the country, viz: an Official List of Patent Claims, prepared expressly for its columns at the Patent Office, thus constituting it the "American Repository of Inventions." In connection with the publishing department, the proprietors transact the most extensive home and foreign Patent business done in this country; consequently their facilities must be correspondingly superior. Terms—$2.00 per year, in advance; $1.00 for six months. All letters must be post paid and directed to MUNN & CO., Publishers of the Scientific American, No 18 Fulton street, New York.

DR. J. S. ROSE'S

GOLDEN PILLS,

For Diseases of the Womb, and Female Weakness. Also, for Weakness of the Back, Spine, Loins, &c., they have no equal.

TRusses, and internal supports, which can only prove palliatives, yields completely to the use of these tonic, strengthening Golden Pills. They have a peculiar affinity for the debilitated muscles of the female, and in no instance have they failed in radically curing those distressing complaints females are so often subject to; they brace the whole system, giving strength and vivacity to the frame at large. Twenty-seven years' experience in the use of these Pills in my practice has been the means of dispensing with more band gages, abdominal supports, pessaries, and golden balls, than many a divinity is now manufacturing. Females of the present age are as perfectly formed as mother Eve, or those mothers of antiquity, and require no external support. The muscles of the body, kept in due tone by the use of these pills, character, are a sufficient support, and all that nature ever intended. These Pills have been pronounced by the thousands (amongst whom was the wife of a distinguished Senator from Louisiana, and the widow of an ex-Governor of Delaware) who have used them, as superior to anything hitherto known. J. S. ROSE, M. D. Price 50 cents per box.

To be had at all the respectable Drug Stores in Washington and Georgetown, D. C., and Alexandria, Va.

GREAT DISCOVERY.

THE great discoveries are those which are most beneficial to the human race. Joy and gladness result from them. A discovery that procures happiness is truly great. How many have been sent into eternity by coughs and colds that settled into that enemy of human life—CONSUMPTION? How many suffer daily with coughs, who might rid their chests of their affliction for a mere trifle? Is there a remedy? Has the discovery been made which will give relief? Yes! MEDICINES "ARABIAN STURGE" and the "ALL HEALING CORDIAL" have been discovered! They have given relief to thousands who were tiring upon the brink of the grave! Turned sorrow into joy, and procured happiness where none might but gloom prevailed. For sale by W. H. Gilman, corner of Pennsylvania avenue and 4 1/2 street; Z. D. Gilman, Pennsylvania avenue between 6th and 7th streets, and the proprietor, 6th street between D and E streets, south.

HUNT'S MERCHANTS' MAGAZINE,

AND A COMMERCIAL REVIEW.

BY FREEMAN HUNT, EDITOR AND PROPRIETOR.

THE number for December, 1850, completed the twenty-third semi-annual volume. A few copies of the Magazine may be obtained at the publisher's office, 142 Fulton street, New York, neatly and substantially bound, for two dollars and a half per volume. The following are a few of the many commendatory letters received by the editor of the Merchant's Magazine from distinguished statesmen:

Letter from Hon. Henry Clay.

ASHLAND, 20th July, 1849.

Dear Sir: I wish to express to you the great benefit I derived on receiving the July number of the Merchant's Magazine and Commercial Review, from viewing your portrait in the leading, and from reading your address to your friends at the end of it. When we feel under obligations to those who have contributed to our information and amusement, we are naturally led us to possess a knowledge of them, of their appearance, of the features of
